Description of Data Included in Datasets

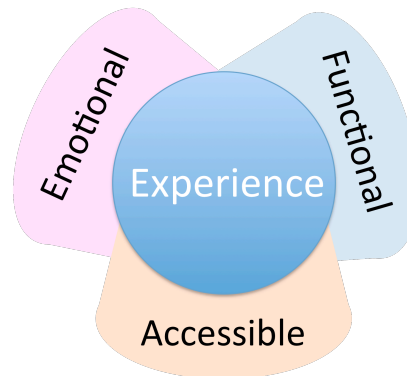

Datasets are delivered in an Excel (.xls) file and contain details of consumer responses to the three questions which make-up the Temkin Experience Ratings. Data is included for the 206 companies included in the ratings along with data from more than 50 other companies that did not have the required minimum of 100 responses. This dataset also includes:

- Differences in responses across age groups for all 18 industry (data is not broken out by specific firm)
- Overall results from 2011 Temkin Experience Ratings

Data was collected via an online survey of 10,000 US consumers during January 2012. Temkin Group purchased access to a 3rd party panel of consumers. The distribution of survey respondents was managed to represent the US population by establishing quotas that approximate US Census percentages for age, income, gender, ethnicity, and location.

Calculating the Temkin Experience Ratings

Temkin Group asks consumers to identify companies that they have interacted with during the previous 60 days. For a random subset of those companies, consumers are asked to rate three dimensions of their recent experiences: functional, accessible, and emotional.

Temkin Group uses these questions to rate those three dimensions:

Functional Component

Thinking of your most recent interactions with each of these companies, to what degree were you able to accomplish what you wanted to do?

Responses from
1= "completely failed" to
7= "completely succeeded"

Accessible Component

Thinking of your most recent interactions with each of these companies, how easy was it to interact with the company?

Responses from
1= "very difficult" to
7= "very easy"

Emotional Component

Thinking of your most recent interactions with each of these companies, how did you feel about those interactions?

Responses from
1= "upset" to
7= "delighted"

For all companies with 100 or more consumer responses, we calculated "net ratings" for each of the three components listed above. The ratings were calculated by taking the percentage of consumers that selected either "6" or "7" and subtracting the percentage of consumers that selected either "1" "2" or "3." The overall Temkin Experience Rating is an average of these three components.

About Temkin Group

When experience matters

Temkin Group is a customer experience research and consulting firm. We have one simple goal for our clients: increase customer loyalty by becoming more customer-centric. Any company can improve portions of its customer experience, but it takes more than a few superficial changes to create lasting differentiation. The Temkin Group combines customer experience thought leadership with a deep understanding of the dynamics of large organizations to help senior executives accelerate their customer experience results.

The company was founded based on four core beliefs:

Customer experience drives loyalty.

Our research and work with clients has shown that interactions with customers influences how much business they'll do with you in the future and how often they recommend you to friends and colleagues.

It's a journey, not a project.

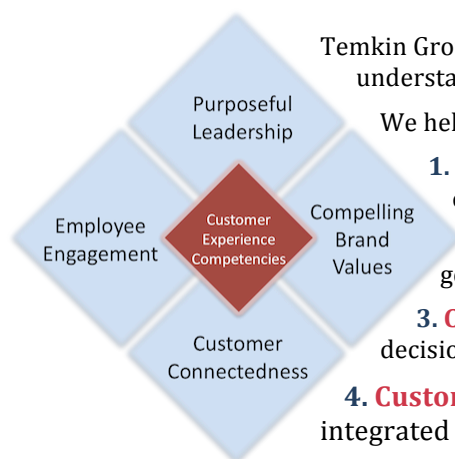

Building the capabilities to consistently delight customers doesn't happen overnight. Companies need to plan for a multi-year corporate change program.

Improvement requires systemic change.

Companies can improve isolated customer interactions, but they can't gain competitive advantage until customer experience is embedded in their operating fabric.

We can help you make a difference.

Transformation isn't easy, but leading your company to be more customer-centric is worth the effort. We help our clients accelerate their results and avoid many of the bumps along the way.

Temkin Group combines customer experience thought leadership with a deep understanding of the dynamics of large organizations to accelerate results.

We help firms build four competencies required for long-term success:

- 1. Purposeful Leadership. Does your executive team operate consistently from a clear, well-articulated set of values?
- 2. Engaged Employees. Are employees fully committed to the goals of your organization?

- 3. Compelling Brand Values. Are your brand attributes driving decisions about how you treat customers?

- 4. Customer-connectedness. Is customer feedback and insight deeply integrated throughout all of your internal processes?
